5. On information and belief, Defendants are subject to this Court's specific and general personal jurisdiction pursuant to due process and/or the Texas Long Arm Statute, due at least to their transacting business in this State, directly or through intermediaries, including: (i) at least a portion of the infringements alleged herein; and (ii) regularly doing or soliciting business, engaging in other persistent courses of conduct, and/or deriving substantial revenue from goods and services provided to individuals in this State and in this Judicial District.

6. Venue is proper in this district under 28 U.S.C. §§ 1391(c) and 1400(b). On information and belief, each Defendant has transacted business in this district and has committed and/or induced and/or contributed to acts of patent infringement in this district.

THE PATENT-IN-SUIT

7. United States Patent No. 5,450,321 (the "'321 patent"), entitled "Interactive Dynamic Real-Time Management System For Powered Vehicles," was duly and lawfully issued on September 12, 1995, based upon an application filed by the inventor, Harold E. Crane. A copy of the '321 patent is attached hereto as Exhibit A.

8. Condatis is the owner by assignment of the '321 patent and has the right to sue, and recover damages, for infringement thereof.

COUNT I

(PATENT INFRINGEMENT OF THE '321 PATENT)

9. Condatis repeats and incorporates the allegations contained in paragraphs 1 through 11 above as is set forth fully herein.

10. On information and belief, Defendant Audi AG has been and now is directly infringing, and/or inducing infringement by others, and/or contributing to the infringement by others of the '321 patent in the State of Texas, in this judicial district, and elsewhere in the United States. Audi AG's infringements include, without limitation, making, using, offering for sale, and/or selling within the United States, and/or importing into the United States, at least the Audi A6 and S6 product that includes indirect tire pressure monitoring systems, and any other product made, used, offered for sale, and/or sold by Audi AG that includes indirect tire pressure monitoring systems or similar features that infringe one or more claims of the '321 patent. Audi AG is thus liable for infringement of the '321 patent pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 271.

Audi US is thus liable for infringement of the '321 patent pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 271.

12. Defendants have committed the foregoing infringing activities without license from Condatis.

13. As a result of Defendants' infringement of the '321 patent, Condatis has suffered monetary damages that are adequate to compensate it for the infringement under 35 U.S.C. § 284, but in no event less than a reasonable royalty.

WHEREFORE, Plaintiff prays for judgment against Defendants, and that the Court grant Plaintiff the following relief:

B. For an award, to be determined at trial, of damages adequate to compensate Condatis for Defendants' infringement and Condatis's costs, but in no event less than a reasonable royalty – plus pre-judgment and post-judgment interest – pursuant to 35 U.S.C. § 284.
